10. CHAIRPERSON'S AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORTS

10.1. Chairperson's Report

Prepared for: Council
Activity: Governance Report
Prepared by: Cr Stephen Woodhead, Chairperson
Date: 10 May 2018

1. Ministry Civil Defence and Emergency Management

Mrs Gardner, Mr Palmer, Mr Hawker, Mayors Cull, Bryan Cadogan, Steve Hill, with Mayor Tim Cadogan via skype, and I, met with Minister Hon Kris Faafoi, the Director of Ministry of Civil Defence & Emergency Management and their support staff.

The Minister's visit was part of a tour he has undertaken around the country meeting local civil defence groups. The Minister was interested in the journey and lessons we had learned during the formation of our Regional entity, Emergency Management Otago. He also met with Iwi and EMO staff. The Minister is on target to report back in August on the Government's decisions from the recommendations of the national review "Better responses to natural disasters and other emergencies in New Zealand" undertaken in 2017.

2. Freedom Camping Forum and Zone Meetings

Councillors Lawton, Laws and I attended these meetings in Nelson. The Freedom Camping symposium was a constructive session with good representation from all agencies involved. Ministers Mahuta and Sage spoke on behalf of the Government and explained the need for collaboration to manage the growing visitor numbers – tourism is 7% of GDP and freedom campers spend an average total of $4,200 or $160/day each while on holiday. They acknowledged the challenge smaller Councils have funding infrastructure to cater for large numbers of visitors. It is clear that there isn't a one size fits all solution to the issues, and that local approaches are needed for specific local issues.

A presentation by the owner of the app Campermate on mobile app solutions was popular, suggesting technology partnerships supplying good information and tracking movements could be a way forward to assist understand trends and inform decisions on infrastructure and policy needs.

The Zone meeting discussed and supported initiatives underway to stop health cuts in the South and ensure ongoing funding for Project AF8. Updates were presented on the Biodiversity think piece, the Tourism infrastructure fund, and Civic Financial Services who are now operating a LG superannuation scheme. Department of Internal Affairs presented on their Central/Local Government Partnerships Group work, the aim is for greater alignment between the two systems of Government.

3. Regional Sector

Local Government NZ update covered the key issues of strategic focus for LGNZ. They are Localism and Funding mechanisms, Risk and Resilience, especially climate change, Water policy – standards to affordability and Housing. Malcolm Alexander, LGNZ Chief Executive, also acknowledged the release of the first LGNZ Water 2050 discussion paper: Governance – A better framework for drinking water regulation which discusses both an independent regulator but with a co-regulatory entity for standards setting. Other key projects are the Climate Change project and the tourism workstream. He also spoke to the latest Government policy initiatives such as the Three Waters review, the impending release of the second Havelock North report, the GPS on Land Transport, The Productivity Commission report on a low emissions economy, and the OAG local government audit results.

4. Queenstown Transport Governance Group

Updates on the Kawarau Bridge which is now officially open, the business cases for Queenstown to Frankton Road and Queenstown Centre which are still being scoped. The airport master plan outlining options to manage passenger growth in the future, including the site of terminal and other sites for secondary airports. The master plan was out for community feedback late 2017. The Wanaka Town Centre Master Plan project plan has been approved by NZTA which allows the project to start. There are a number of other projects that are in their early stages looking at parking buildings, park and ride opportunities, water taxis etc.

5. Other Meetings

I attended Jolyon Manning's funeral service in Clyde, laid a wreath at the Anzac Day Service in Dunedin, attended the Ballance Farm Environment awards, NZTA briefing on the new GPS, and a number of LTP "For our Future" meetings.

6. Recommendation

That the report be received.

- 1.15 Discussion with Keith Manch, Director of Maritime New Zealand 10 May 2018.

As we have engaged several times during meetings and some content from my meetings is covered by the Chair's Report, I have not summarised each meeting in detail here. For completeness I have provided a summary of some meetings below.

2. Guardians of Lake Wanaka

This was an opportunity to gain further understanding of the role of the Guardians and of the work they participate in. They discussed their legislative mandate, the work they do to increase environmental awareness, and the contributions they make to statutory processes.

In terms of matters for Otago Regional Council, the Guardians felt they had further richness to offer large scale urban development consenting processes, wished to express their views about monitoring buoys and where they are positioned, including some discussion about having them at river mouths, and asked if they might be able to have a role in the Overseas Investment Act Review being undertaken in government.

3. Fish and Game Chief Executives Meeting

This was an opportunity to hear some parting comments from the outgoing Chief Executive and to meet the incoming Chief Executive of Fish and Game. In particular, we discussed water quality, deemed permits, minimum flows, particularly their experience of the Lindis Catchment Minimum Flow Plan Change process, wetland management, river management, and affected party status under the Resource Management Act.

4. MPI Meetings

This meeting was at the request of MPI who were visiting our region. MPI provided a helpful overview of their changed structure as a result of the change in government. We discussed common issues such as the microplasma bovis outbreak, wilding conifers, the billion trees initiative, PFAS contamination, agriculture coming into the Emissions Trading Scheme, biodiversity (including rabbits and wallabies), and the positive stories of on-farm initiatives I have had the opportunity to hear since my arrival.

The meeting was very worthwhile and opened the door for future partnering or collaboration.

5. Maritime New Zealand Discussion

Largely this call was initiated given my appointment as Regional Sector Chief Executive Sponsor of the Special Interest Sector Group on Marine and Navigation. Director Manch and I have worked together before when I was doing oil and gas work at the New Zealand Environment Protection Authority.

The feedback regarding our new harbourmaster's work locally and in collaboration with other regional harbourmasters and Maritime New Zealand was very positive. I am hearing similar about our harbourmaster from other regions also.

We touched on the work we are undertaking regarding bylaws and the way we work together on a number of committees and fronts. I raised the issue of Skippers under the influence of alcohol and voiced the concerns Councillors have raised on this issue.

In my new position for the sector I will regularly meet with Maritime New Zealand Executives as part of a Chief Executives Group that comes together on common issues and areas of risk or significance.

6. Other Matters

Civil Defence Coordinating Executive Group (CEG)

A meeting of the Otago CEG was held on 4 May 2018 and kindly chaired by Dr Sue Bidrose, Chief Executive for Dunedin City Council, in my absence (I was attending the Regional Sector Group meeting in Wellington). Also, in my absence I was elected to the position of CEG Chair. CEG has legislative responsibilities under the Civil Defence Emergency Management Act 2002 including:

- (a) providing advice to the Civil Defence Emergency Management Group and any subgroups or subcommittees of the Group;
- (b) implementing, as appropriate, the decisions of the Civil Defence Emergency Management Group;
- (c) overseeing the implementation, development, maintenance, monitoring, and evaluation of the civil defence emergency management group plan.

Future work for the CEG is to refine the agenda and ensure that we are getting the appropriate level of information for the responsibilities held. The new Deputy Chair of CEG is David Guard of Fire and Emergency. A focus is not only the review of the Group Plan but also the establishment of Community Response Plans within the next twelve months.

11. MATTERS FOR COUNCIL DECISION

12. MATTERS FOR NOTING

12.1. Ministerial Review - Better Responses to Natural Disasters and Other Emergencies

Prepared for: Council
Activity: Governance Report
Prepared by: Chris Hawker, Director (Non-Executive) Emergency Management Otago
Date: 10 May 2018

Précis

Following concerns around the emergency management responses to both the Kaikoura earthquakes (November 2016) and the Port Hills Fires (February 2017), the then Minister of Civil Defence & Emergency Management, the Hon Jerry Brownlee, commissioned a review into how Civil Defence & Emergency Management is delivered in New Zealand. The Minister's concerns at the time were around the provision of information to their office, to the community at large, and the way the responses were managed overall.

The Minister established a Technical Advisory Group (TAG) in June 2017, led by Roger Sowry as Chair, and made up of the following membership:

- Benesia Smith MNZM, independent consultant
- Malcolm Alexander, Chief Executive, Local Government New Zealand
- Assistant Commissioner Mike Rusbach, New Zealand Police
- Deputy National Commander Kerry Gregory, New Zealand Fire Service
- Major General Tim Gall, New Zealand Defence Force
- Sarah Stuart-Black, Director, Ministry of Civil Defence & Emergency Management

Background

As part of an extensive national consultation process, the Otago Civil Defence Group prepared a joint submission to the review led by ORC Chairman Stephen Woodhead, and met with the TAG on three occasions to speak to the submission. The third occasion was an onsite review in Dunedin during the response to the July east Otago floods of 2017.

The timeframe for the review was as follows:

- 2 June 2017 - Terms of reference released and submissions sought
- 7 July 2017 - Submissions close
- July 2017 - Opportunity for submissions to be heard
- Late August 2017 - TAG to provide an interim report to Minister of Civil Defence
- January 2018 - Report and submissions published

TAG Recommendations

On 18 January 2018, Minister Kris Faafoi released the TAG recommendations, and these have formed the basis for further work being undertaken by an Implications Project Team working under the direction of the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet (DPMC).

The TAG's recommendations largely support the position taken by the Otago Civil Defence Group and acknowledged Otago's structure as being an example of a successful shared services approach. The structure is shown in the following Figure 1:

The following is a précis of the key recommendations of the TAG, focused on potential implications for ORC and for the shared services partnership with the Otago district councils. My comments are noted in bold against each recommendation and derive from a series of meetings with the TAG, the implications review team, national group managers, and partner agencies.

The TAG recommended the following:

1. A new National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) be established as a departmental agency hosted by DPMC, to replace MCDEM.
 - a. This has been strongly advocated by the national CDEM sector. A change in legislation to replace the current CDEM Act (2002) will be required to achieve this.
 - b. The creation of NEMA would come with a major change in philosophy from the current Ministry of Civil Defence's more policy and guideline focus, to the NEMA's more directive focus.

2. A more proactive leadership of the sector, and an assertive, and when required, directive stance, is needed under the provisions of the CDEM Act.
 - a. This will also require a change of legislation and a shift in national policy
3. Strengthening accountability for group performance through NEMA monitoring and OAG audit and that NEMA's monitoring responsibilities, and OAG audit responsibilities, should be used to full effect through publication of results.
 - a. This will significantly change the way monitoring, and audit of group performance is undertaken. The implications for Otago are that once the required standards are set, all groups will be measured against a national standard which Otago will have to comply with. This is likely to be tied to the changes in legislation and policy before a change occurs.
 - b. While the governance responsibility for EM Otago remains with the Joint Committee of all the Councils, and the operational direction sits with the Coordinating Executive Group, it is foreseeable that ORC will be audited on its ability to support and resource EM Otago.
4. It must be ensured that NEMA has the resources and the capability to credibly do the job expected of it.
 - a. A review and changes to resource and capability for a new agency is likely to have flow on effect to all groups, with an expectation that Otago's group capability will match and complement national ability.
5. There is a need to strengthen incentives and accountability for system stewardship through:
 - a. Developing transparency, governance, and structural approaches to strengthen collective action and stewardship in this sector, and
 - b. Considering joint accountabilities in departmental CE's performance agreements, backed up in Ministerial letters of expectation.
 - i. This will further embed the need for regionally shared services governance and management of the CDEM sector.
6. That Groups are required to provide adequate funding and resourcing for effective CDEM activities
 - a. Funding is problematic across the country with several different funding models used. Otago's approach has most funding coming from a regionally targeted rate, and with specific funding for district responsibilities coming from each local council.
7. National standards be strengthened over minimum requirements (for example, capability, operating practice)
 - a. A change in national standards is likely to have implications for all groups who do not meet any new standard. It will not be clear for some time which areas are targeted and whether Otago's existing capability will be sufficient. However, indications are that areas where we are already recognised as having vulnerability – e.g. GIS, facilities, and trained personnel – are likely to be included.
8. There is a need to strengthen Group Joint Committee governance. For example, requirements on members to participate, limits on ability to delegate.
 - a. Otago already complies with the intent of this with all Otago Mayors and CEs attending Joint Committee meetings

9. That the development of shared emergency management services across the CDEM regions is required.
 - a. This strengthens the requirement to have robust and mutually supportive relationships and clear agreements in place with partner agencies and other CDEM groups. Otago has strong relationships in place and continues to build on those with shared activities and capability development.
10. That defined functions and responsibilities for territorial and regional councils are clarified
 - a. Across the country these issues vary in scale. In Otago, through our shared services model, these are already clear.
11. Clarify that elected representatives (mayors) have primary authority to declare states of local emergency for their districts noting;
 - a. While mayors have primary authority, provide for the Chair of the Joint Committee to be able to declare in appropriate circumstances (consulting with affected mayors where practicable) as a multi-district or Group wide declaration may be most appropriate
 - i. This will simply clarify what is currently in place.
12. Training and advice is required as a precondition for any person (primarily the mayors) using their authority to declare a state of local emergency
 - a. There is currently no policy or standard in place which requires Otago's Mayors or the ORC Chair to have been trained and/or certified. There are potential implications if certification was mandated and a Mayor was not able to declare during an event because he/she had not received the training or been certified. We expect this to be clarified when changes to the CDEM Act are made.
13. Recognising the capability that iwi brings to emergency management
 - a. The TAG recommendations include the need to include Iwi representation on both the Coordinating Executive Group and the Joint Committee.
 - b. The CEG has already considered this and the Joint Committee will consider it on 24 May.
14. Strengthen the professionalism of emergency management, with a focus on Controllers
 - a. Across the country there are numerous controllers who are not trained or certified. The introduction of mandated requirements will have implications for the appointment of controllers.
 - b. The wider Otago Group are in the same position however within ORC we have three trained and nationally certified controllers at Group level. These are;
 - i. Chris Hawker Primary Group Controller
 - ii. Scott McLean Alternate Group Controller
 - iii. Tanya Winter Alternate Group Controller
 - c. Across the region there are two nationally trained and certified controllers in Clutha District, one in Queenstown, one in Central Otago, none in Dunedin and none in Waitaki.

15. Clear command authority is required at Group level and here is a need to confirm the authority of Group Controllers
 - a. This recommendation will further clarify the role and authority of Group Controllers which is misunderstood in some areas and across agencies.
16. Investment is required in the technology to ensure a fit-for-purpose Common Operating Picture
 - a. There are cost implications for some groups in this area, however Otago is already progressing towards compliance with what is likely to be required.
17. Require Group plans to identify arrangements for a regional spokesperson when managing an event that crosses territorial boundaries
 - a. This is not likely to change the situation which already exists in Otago with the Chair, or Deputy Chair, being the primary spokesperson for a regional event. It remains the Chair's role to maintain strong communications links with the local mayors as they are the primary spokesperson for their own community.

The full recommendations of the review, released by the Minister, are attached to this report as Appendix A.

Meetings are now being held with various groups and individuals around the Country, including visits to each region by the Minister and support staff. The Minister met with Otago Mayors, the ORC Chair, Chief Executives and CDEM staff on 23 April 2018, and confirmed he will be publicly releasing the Governments position in mid-to-late July.

Dr Gavin Palmer and Tanya Winter are further supporting the review as members of the Regional Structures Working Group.
